WHY PROBLEM IDENTIFICATION MATTERS

Identifying the right research problem is the cornerstone of a successful PhD dissertation. A well-defined research problem provides clarity, direction, and focus for your study. Without a precise problem, your research may lack depth, relevance, and the potential to contribute meaningfully to the academic community.

WHAT WE OFFER

Customized Problem Identification aligned with your research goals.

Feasibility and Impact Assessment to ensure the problem fits your resources.

Literature Review to identify gaps and unexplored areas in your field
